

Bid for this cake for Macmillan Cancer Support...

We have an eye-catching and delicious Mug of Coffee Cake to auction in aid of Macmillan Cancer Research.

Made by Lynn's 21-year-old relative Rebecca on Thursday evening, it's a triple-layer sponge cake filled with butter cream, topped with coffee icing and surrounded by plenty of green and white icing to create a large 'coffee mug'. It even comes with a chocolate spoon, sugar cubes and a biscuit... Weighing more than 3lb, it could be yours if your bid is right!

The cake will go to the highest bidder at 2.30pm on Sunday 28 September and can be collected from West Winds from then... just in time for tea and cake in the afternoon (or should that be coffee and cake?). All proceeds will be donated to Macmillan Cancer Support.
