3rd April 2009

Dear Tim,

I am pleased to be able to tell you that the road surface from Threshfield to Cracoe is to be re-surfaced with microasphalt. This is a quiet surface like the one put down last year north of Threshfield. Having been told that it had failed to make the list this year, this is a welcome change of mind. There is a cost, a road in Embsay is to wait until the next financial year and I haven't yet broken this news to that Parish Council.

It is expected that work will begin week beginning April 27th and take about two weeks. The road will be closed from 7pm until 5am each night and we will have to do a detour, but optimistically there should not be too much traffic to contend with on the diversion route during the evening.

Please pass onto as many people as possible about the road closure and I would like to thank all of you including the District Councillor for Upper Wharfedale who have complained about this stretch of road over the last twelve months. It certainly supports me and my repeated requests for resurfacing to be done.

Yours sincerely,

Shelagh.

To all Parish Councils and Meetings in Upper Wharfedale.
